

July 30.

reaching T wharf with trips of large fish, until at nightfall 17 vessels, all with fine trips of fresh mackerel, were tied up at T wharf and more expected.

This morning found 19 trips at Boston, and during yesterday afternoon, three more trips had arrived here, which, together with the two trips at Provincetown, made a total of 28 trips, the biggest mackerel day of this most discouraging season.

Not only is it the biggest mackerel day of this season, but it is also one of the biggest fresh mackerel days on record and the greatest fresh mackerel days in the history of T wharf.

Considering the large amount of fish in, the price is good. The fares at Boston this morning sold for 15 cents each for large and eight cents each for medium.

The fare of sch. Fannie E. Prescott sold here to the Gloucester Fresh Fish Co. for a lump sum. The fare of sch. Ralph L. Hall sold to the same firm, her medium fish bringing five cents each. This firm also had the fare of sch. Lizzie M. Stanley.

The news of these big hauls, also the knowledge that others got fish and did not run to market with them, is most encouraging to owners, masters and fishermen, and has put new life into what was previous to yesterday the dull season on record. All are now enthused and more good hauls are confidently hoped and looked for. The fleet now in port will lose no time in getting out on the grounds again and others which have been in for a few days, because of a disinclination of some of the men to follow what looked to be a "dead horse," will now hustle out after the schools so near at hand.

Most of the fleet at Boston will go right out from there today and some who have some salt mackerel will ship them to this city by steamer.

At Provincetown yesterday, the steamer Angelia B. Nickerson arrived with 13,000 fresh medium mackerel and the steamer Vigilant also arrived there with 11,000 fresh medium mackerel.

The arrivals at this port included schs. Fannie E. Prescott, Ralph L. Hall, Lizzie M. Stanley, Patrician, Gertrude and Avalon and steamer Bryda F.

At Boston are schs. Lucania, Constellation, Metamora, Mary E. Harty, Arthur James, Ingomar, Elizabeth Silsbee, Monitor, Nellie Dixon, Esperanto, Lena and Maud, Mooween, Mattakesett, Seaconnet, Argo, Catherine G. Howard, Evelyn L. Smith, Romance and Cynthia.

A full account of all the trips will be found in the column of today's receipts.

Sch. Patrician, which arrived at this port last evening with 50 barrels of large fresh mackerel, was with the fleet off Pollock Rip, when they made their hauls Saturday. She had a big haul of 250 barrels in her seine when it got hung up and torn badly, the fish all escaping except 50 barrels. The vessel had to come in to have the seine repaired.

A conservative estimate of the value of the mackerel brought in yesterday and today by the 28 mackerel arrivals is $50,000.

The fare of salt large mackerel of sch. Lizzie M. Stanley sold to George Perkins & Son at $18 per barrel.

The fare of sch. Gertrude sold to George Perkins & Son at $15 per barrel for large and medium, $7 for tinkers and $5 for spikes.

The fare of sch. Ralph L. Hall will probably go to the Gorton-Pew Fisheries Co.

Sch. Lizzie M. Stanley, Capt. Joshua W. Stanley, stocked $3700 as the result of her five days mackerel seining trip.

The fresh mackerel of sch. Rob Roy sold to the Gloucester Fresh Fish Co.

FRENCH STEAM TRAWLER.

Forerunner of Large Fleet if Experiment Proves Successful.

The new French steam trawler Capella, from Boulogne, arrived at North Sydney, C. B., last week. The owner Mr. Huret, is on board and is here to experiment in the trawling business along the Cape Breton coast. The Capella is a new steamer launched a few months ago and represents the most modern type of trawlers. Should the experiment prove successful, Mr. Huret states that a fleet of trawling steamers will come from France and engage in trawling off the Cape Breton coast next season. He will make North Sydney his headquarters. He was much impressed with the harbor and expressed surprise that North Sydney was without a fishing fleet.

THREE TRIPS IN.

Mackerel Showed in Small Schools on Middle Bank.

Some of the Fleet Made Small Hauls and Probably Salted.

Sch. Alert, Capt. John F. Vautier, arrived at this port early this morning with 20,000 fresh mackerel in count, taken on Middle Bank yesterday. The fish are mediums and sold to the Gloucester Fresh Fish Co., at 5 1-2 cents each.

Sch. Saladin, Capt. Flar McKown, arrived at Boston this forenoon with 10,000 fresh medium mackerel. The fish were taken yesterday on Middle Bank.

The little steamer Elthier is also at Boston this morning with 6000 fresh medium mackerel, taken on Middle Bank yesterday.

The crew of the Alert report that about 35 sail of the fleet were on Middle Bank yesterday. Besides themselves and sch. Saladin, they report that schs. Veda M. McKown, Esperanto and Ralph L. Hall got hauls. Many vessels had their boats out and the fish showed in small schools. It is thought that several of the fleet got small hauls and salted their fish.

Some of the fresh medium mackerel which were held over in the vessels at T wharf, Boston, until yesterday brought six cents each in the morning, whereas on Monday afternoon they declined four cents. Those who held over won out by so doing.

The salt mackerel fare of sch. Helen G. Wells sold to Fred Bradley at $20 per barrel for large, $15 per barrel for medium and $6 for spikes.

Several seiners with their boats out could be seen only a few miles off the mouth of the harbor last evening just before sundown.
